

2017 International Clerkships

Each year, Baker & McKenzie awards 10 International Clerkships to law students and recent graduates interested in exploring an international legal career with the Firm. Recipients typically work with Baker & McKenzie lawyers in two different countries over a 12-week period.

Clerks are selected on the basis of their legal ability, interest in pursuing an international practice, and facility in English as well as the working languages of the locations where they will work (if other than English).

Candidates generally must have completed at least two years of formal legal training prior to their Clerkship. Candidates in the US may qualify if they will have completed two years in an ABA-approved law school JD curriculum by the time their Clerkship would be completed. Each Clerkship includes an attractive salary and travel expenses.

Applications are accepted, and awards are organized, locally. The program is flexible. Consult a "sponsoring office" in your jurisdiction for details on how the program is conducted locally or contact a member of the international talent management team (by email to: debbie.miller@bakermckenzie.com in the first instance).

How to Apply:

An International Clerkship is only available if you wish to apply for a permanent work contract. To be considered for the scheme, please write a letter of application to Baker & McKenzie in the jurisdiction in which you intend to practice after admission.

With your letter of application, enclose a full curriculum vitae (including the results of all university examinations to date); two letters of reference from law professors, tutors, or other appropriate persons who are in a position to evaluate the quality of your legal work; and a detailed statement of the educational value to you of an International Clerkship with Baker & McKenzie.

Applications from candidates in the southern hemisphere are generally required by July; from candidates in the US by November; and from all other candidates by January. Exact application dates and other details can be obtained from the location through which you make your application.
